

Are you excited for another awesome week at Creative Arts?

The Heartbeat

INFO FOR JULY BENEFIT CAN BE FOUND AT
www.creativeartsnyc.org

Volume 28 Issue 12

July 19, 2010

Adriana Trigiani (aka Lucia's mom) enjoys Creative Arts' creativity

Suave Day Baffles Camper

By Skye Rabbin-Birnbaum, 8.8

When I got to camp Thursday morning and all of the CITs (and some of the Interns) were dressed up, I knew it was Suave Day. However, first I thought it was swab day and I had no idea what that was! Instead, it's actually SUAVE day, so don't think it's swab day, like I did. [Chorus of campers] "Okay Skye! But what's Suave Day?" Well, until I wrote this and asked Theresa, I still wasn't sure! Suave means looking nice and cool. If you think it's wrong, just ask a CIT or an Intern or a Staff member.

Acting Nervous, Feeling Great

By Charlotte Rezak, 8.2

I will be in the Evening Noontime Show (the performance for the Benefit) with Mini Musical. We will be performing the last scene of the show. So far, we haven't gotten to rehearse this part at all, so I'm not sure what to do. I love my part though! The person that I am playing is the youngest and most nervous. Mini Musical is probably my favorite period!

Radio Star Slayars

By Camila Larrain, 8.3

I am going to tell you about my Music Videos class. Basically, we choose a song by anyone and get the video camera and make a video that relates to the song. Then we add the music to the song and it sounds and looks really cool! If you're in Music Videos, I hope you like it!

Noontime Show Special

By Sylvie Palmer, 10.1

I thought it was so cool that Lucia's mom could visit us the other day because I love reading and writing. At the school that I go to, [Spence] we each write a book in the middle of the year, even in first grade! I have a little red notebook where I write down all of my ideas for stories and poems. I have read 71 books since last September. I really enjoyed it when Lucia's mom came to Noontime Show and I hope you did too!

Park Bench

By Emilia Goued, 8.5

In one of my classes, Def Jam Writing Slam, we played a game called Park Bench. This is how you play. First, you set up four chairs next to each other. Have one person sit on one of the chairs. Then you pick another person to sit next to the person who was already sitting on the chair, and that person has to bother the other person until he/she gets off the bench, using all sorts of annoying lines.

Guess Who!

By Wylie McCann, 9.4

Use the clues below to guess the mystery person:

This person's name starts with an S.

This person is female.

She knows everyone's name.

She is in charge of the camp.

Who is it? Answer on reverse.

Suzanne Sez: Buy your tickets for The Benefit!

Word Scramble

By Frances Keohane, 7.8

oilacs _____

enzuans _____

uvsae _____

esmurm apmc _____

ljyu _____

ncloi _____

aht ayd _____

I hope you enjoyed it!

Camper Anticipates Literary Greatness at Upcoming Arts Festival

By Elie Levine, 12.1

Last year, the Arts Festival was full to the brim with performances. The dance classes strutted their stuff and the art classes showed off what they had made in the halls and sometimes onstage. The Musicals were performed, leaving the respective crowds speechless. Musicians played what they had rehearsed and the audience went wild. Since this has been a great literary session for Creative Arts, I am excited to hear young writers read their wonderful work, something the Arts Festival lacked last year. The Arts Festival is fun, exciting, and a great (though sad) end to camp.

Fun in Sci-Fi Flicks is No Myth!

By Vivian Jackson, 9.2

In Sci-Fi Flicks, we're making a new movie. It's about the Greek gods. Two kids failed on their mythology exam and they decided to get extra credit. They wanted to make the Greek gods! At first, they thought they didn't make the Greek gods, but then they see the Greek gods and goddess Zeus, Poseidon, and Athena. It's going to be crazy!

Collection of Poems

Destinee Ross, 14.9

A Haiku about Hat Day
Multicolored hats
Really awesome creations
This day will be great!

Poem about the Ice Cream Blowout
After Hat Day, everyone goes
To eat ice cream, I suppose.
I know this day is going to be great
Later on, I'll know from all the ice cream people ate.
It's a great thing to do after Hat Day's events
Later, after the sugar rush, everyone will be spent.
Haiku about the Staff/ CIT/ Intern Volleyball Game
One serve starts the game
Excitement is everywhere
People are cheering!

Loving the Designs

By Allen Delgado, 9.4

In Video Game Design, we've been making a bowling game where you are the pin and have to avoid the bowling ball. I really like playing games and am really loving designing one. If you're in Video Game Design, I hope you enjoy it!

Rock Band shreds the noontime show

Interns win volleyball game taking title away from staff. Did Leslie throw the game to let son Les savor victory?

Mystery Person Answer:
Suzanne