

“ALL THE NEWS THAT’S FIT FOR CAMP”

HEARTBEAT LOGO BY GIULIA CHIODI, AGE 12, SONIA SERVEDIO, AGE 12, AND LINA TEPLISKY-KAHN, AGE 12

HAT HAT HOORAY!

By Preston Frankel, age 14

Well, it’s HAT time of the summer again. For all the new kids, what we do here for “Hat Day” (it’s obviously a national holiday) is create the most creative hat one can think of, wear it, and parade around the theater, waiting for the judges to pick one camper from each group that wins, as you saw demonstrated yesterday.

The final most amazing, most special, great award is a packet of Skittles (or the less exciting, but more rewarding in the long run, water bottle). Whoever wins also gets eternal fame and glory, being written down in the history books for ages to come.

SOME OF THE FIRST PLACE WINNERS WERE:

- Daniel Osana, Italian Hat, Eson’s group
- Farah Blount, The Sea Hat, Kelly’s group
- Olivia Long-Kaline, Popcorn Hat, Joachim’s group

Now, when was this great idea put into operation? I asked one of the wisest men in existence ... the most reliable source in history ... Eson. According to him, Suzanne created it in homage to a black-tie fundraiser called the Hatter’s Ball, where people create hats and win prizes. Hat Day was created easily over 15 years ago.

Hat Day is very enjoyable and good for putting your mind to work: encourages creativity, express oneself, collaboration, and even camaraderie, as there are always compliments being thrown around.

Overall, Hat Day is a great experience that all campers here should have. It’s fun while also working your brain to outcompete your friends in a friendly way.

Heartbeat Staffer, Scarlett Huntington, age 12, impresses the guest judges: Former CAA Director, Suzanne and former Kids Club director, D,D,D, Da-Dana, DANA!

Thanks everyone for a fabulous Hat Day Parade!

Are you Shrek or Donkey? By Sonia Servedio, age 12, Lina Teplitsky-Kahn, age 12, and Giulia Chiodi, age 12

Since the CAA musical is around the corner and everyone’s been talking about it, we thought it would be fun to make a little quiz.

CHOOSE ONE:

- A) Waffles
- B) Onions
- C) Lettuce

CHOOSE ONE:

- A) Mug Cake
- B) Mud Cake
- C) Cupcake

CHOOSE ONE:

- A) Chicken
- B) Beef
- C) You’re a vegetarian/vegan/pescatarian

CHOOSE ONE:

- A) Sorbet
- B) Ice cream
- C) Frozen yogurt

CHOOSE ONE:

- A) Eggs
- B) Bacon
- C) Fruit

CHOOSE ONE:

- A) Broccoli
- B) Churros
- C) Pizza

IF YOU ANSWERED MOSTLY A, you’re more like Donkey! You’re caring, noble, and very loyal!

IF YOU ANSWERED MOSTLY C, you’re a mix of both! You’re friendly, outgoing, and kind!

IF YOU ANSWERED MOSTLY B, you’re more like Shrek! You’re brave, confident, and daring!

FUN FACT: We wrote this quiz only because Giulia forgot the articles we needed.

Do you want a piece of gum? But only one piece? Well look no further! We produce single pieces of gum! It is only one piece but it's reusable!

All you gotta do is: 1) use the gum, 2) stick the gum in its wrapper, 3) when you want to use it again, stick it in the microwave and microwave it for 15 seconds, then put in your mouth! Selling at all convenience stores for the low, low price of $30!

SMALL PRINT: truth is the gum is not worth it and we can't be sure if it's healthy. But buy it because this is an ad.

Romes Weren't Built in a Day

By Ava Van Dusen, age 11 and Michael Gonzalez, age 11

If you say you've been to Rome, chances are you're talking about Rome, Italy. But, you could also be talking about...

- | | |
|---------------------------|---------------------------------|
| Rome, Alabama | Rome, Mississippi |
| Rome City, Indiana | Rome, Missouri |
| Rome, Kentucky | Rome, New York |
| Rome, Georgia | 4 Romes in Ohio |
| Rome, Iowa | Rome, Oregon |
| Rome, Maine | Rome, Pennsylvania |
| Rome, Illinois | Rome, Tennessee |
| Rome, Kansas | and 3 Romes in Wisconsin |

... And these are just in America! Which is, to be honest, quite odd. Or at least we think so ... Let's see what campers think ...

- 6 don't really care and didn't bother to answer
- 8 agree that it is strange
- 1 is not surprised

During further research, we found out that there is actually a city called Rome (or Roma) on every continent, except Antarctica. In the US there are 9 cities called Rome, not to mention countless towns.

NBA Finals Revisited

By Kairav Kumar, age 8

In the NBA finals this past June, the Toronto Raptors beat the Golden State Warriors in 6 games. Durant got injured in game 5 and Klay Thompson got injured in Games 6 and 2. Thompson missed one game and one quarter but he is expected to come back in February and play for the Warriors. Durant, on the other hand, signed with the Brooklyn Nets in the offseason. Now — to address the Raptors. As you know, the Raptors won the NBA finals with Kawhi Leonard winning the finals MVP. Raptor PG, Kyle Lowry held up the trophy and Leonard held the MVP trophy. Sadly though, Leonard is leaving the team and joining the LA Clippers next season. All in all, despite the injuries, the NBA finals turned out to be exciting and surprising. Congratulations Raptors and good work to both teams!

What Do You Meme?

Below is our MEME OF THE DAY and the Heartbeat staff came up with these clever captions:

Let me speak to your manager.
— Kate Wespice, age 13

All my friends are Kentucky Fried.
— Michael Gonzalez, age 11

When you look at your friends enter a KFC.
— Alessia Venini, age 10

My alektorophobia is kicking in!

— Scarlett Huntington, age 12 and Anjali Marwell, age 13

Nick eats fried chicken at Popeyes and finds the true meaning of "you are what you eat" — Rebecca Randall, age 12

DAN DECLARES

FAMILY FUN NIGHT is tomorrow at 406! Bring the whole family for the basketball shootout and performances!