

THE PEOPLE HAVE SPOKEN

Rumors of Corruption Haunt Volleyball Referee

By Timothy Schachner, 13.8, Theodore Servedio, 14.0, and Max O'Halloran, 15.8

So we were looking for someone to interview about the upcoming volleyball game. And I thought: Who has determined the result of just about every single volleyball game that has occurred throughout history? So we decided to interview Colin, the referee, in an attempt to expose him.

Q: If the CITs have 20 points and the Staff has 3 points, which team is winning?

A: You only win when it's over, but the CITs are LEADING. However, if I have the whistle, I can predict the future.

Q: If the Staff hit the ball more than 3 times, who gets the point?

A: We get the point because I have the whistle.

Q: What number comes after three?

A: 4.

Q: What happens when the ball goes out?

A: The other team gets the point and serves.

Q: What score does the game stop at?

A: When the Staff is ahead.

Q: What team will win regardless of which team is better?

A: I'll place my bet later, the fix is in.

Q: Are you aware of the fact that we will change anything and everything you have said in this interview?

A: You have that right.

More Volleyball Predictions

By Hannah Katz, 11.1, Louisa Suk, 11.2, and Karina Lester, 11.7

We all know Friday is the Volleyball Game. There is always a big rivalry once the volleyball game comes around. So, we're going to ask people who they want to win and who they think will win—the Staff, Interns, or CIT's.

Christina (Staff)

Q: Who do you think will win?

A: The staff, of course!

Q: Are you planning to play?

A: I don't know! I don't want to bring the staff down too hard.

Anonymous Intern

Q: Who do you think will win?

A: Interns!!!! (The intern yelled)

Q: Do you think it's unfair that a staff member is a referee?

A: Yes! Haven't you noticed the staff has been winning for so long? It's because Colin is a staff member.

Q: Who do you think should be referee?

A: An intern.

Q: Wouldn't that be unfair to the staff?

A: Yes, but the interns and CITs would finally win.

Q: What are you excited about for the game?

A: TO BEAT THE STAFF! YEAH!

Anonymous Staff Member "Patt Bargini"

Q: When you were a camper, who did you cheer for?

A: Everyone else rooted for the C.I.T.s when I was a camper but I always had some love for the Staff. They were the underdogs, even though they won every year.

Q: What about when you were a C.I.T.?

A: Well of course I rooted for the C.I.T.s then. What kind of traitor do you think I am?

Emily (CIT)

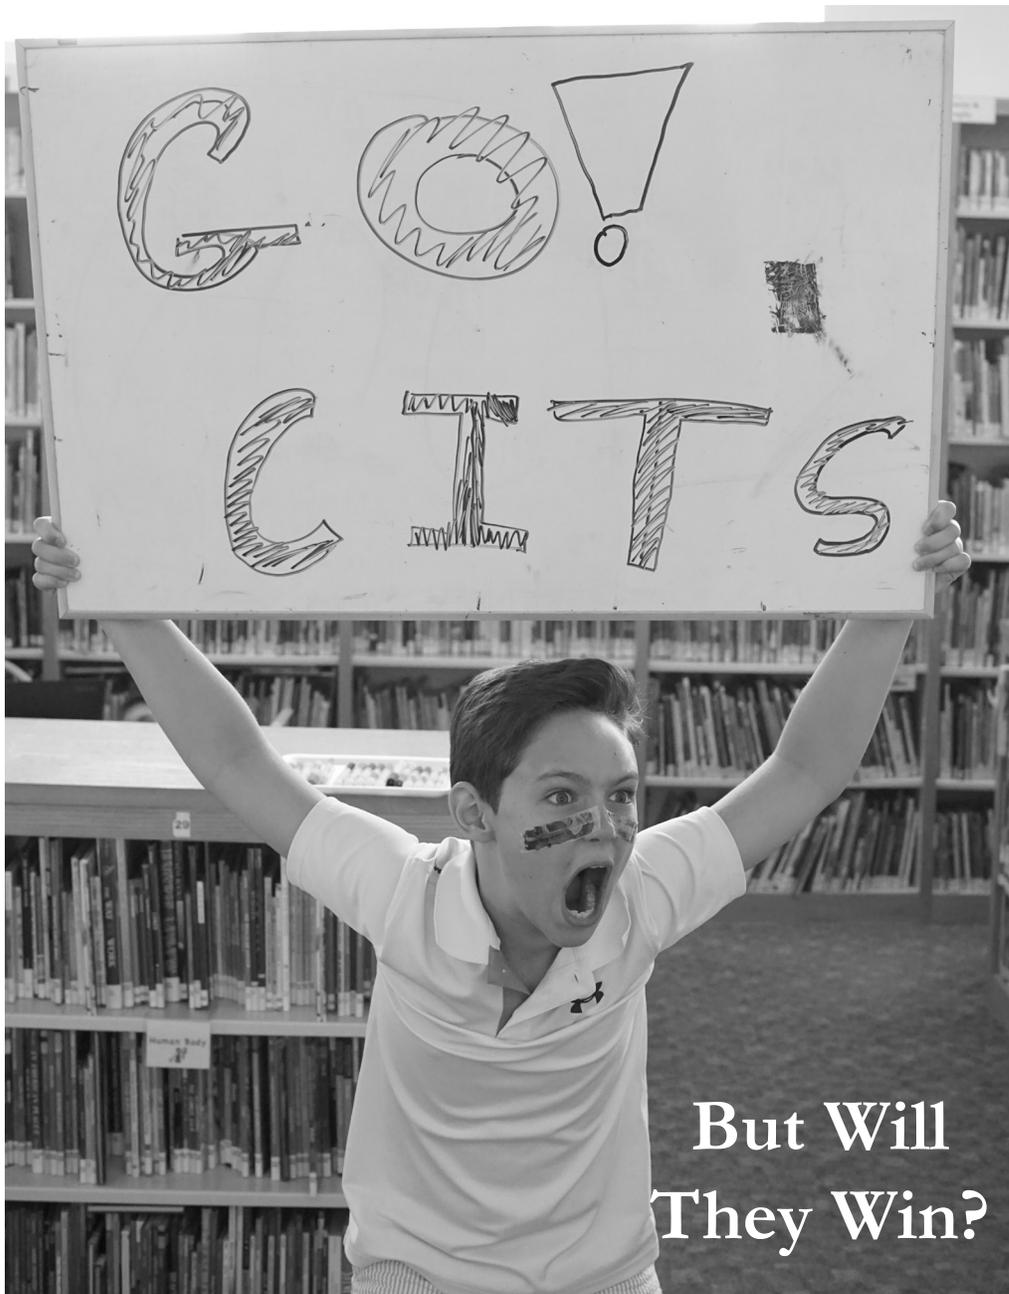

Q: Are you going to play?

A: Yes. Maybe. Hopefully.

Q: Do you think it's unfair that a staff member is a referee?

A: No. He's fair.

(Shockingly, 3 other interns and CITs said this.)

But Will They Win?

FANDOM: Camper Jacob Buller, 9.8, screams a warcry for his favorite team.

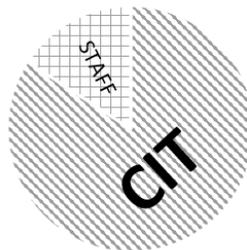

Who Will Win?

The Heart Beat Poll

By The Heart Beat Newsroom, Combined Age 281.6

(Editor's Note: In an unexpected and completely unprecedented turn of events, the vast majority of campers appear to believe that the CITs and Interns will win the Staff vs. CIT/Intern Volleyball Game. Here are the results of our scientific poll.)

Who do you think will win the volleyball game?

STAFF WINS VOLLEYBALL GAME AGAIN!!

How Are YOU Preparing for Y2K?

By Preston Frankel, -5.2

As we all know, Y2K means the end of the world, but is there a way to stop it? We can take shelter here at CAA! I mean, it's gonna be January when it happens, but that doesn't matter.

Survey: How are YOU preparing for Y2K?

Erin: I plan to get as many nutrients as possible and not move around so I don't sweat.

Tommy: Move underground.

Max: Making a fallout shelter and getting as much food and water as I can.

Tim: I'm not.

Theo: I'm going to stock up on Skittles and hide in my basement.

Jacob: I'm going to jump into a dumpster, find a banana, and live off of the banana forever.

Vivian: I will mourn.

Charlotte: I'm building a rocket ship around my house.

Sophie: I don't know.

Eleanor: I'm nervous, I'm making a safety bag, and I'll hide in the attic.

Noah: Packing a ton of suitcases and moving into my basement.

Christina (Staff): I'm baking a funfetti cake that I'm planning on eating with my Capri Sun and Gushers.

Matt (Staff): I'm building a shelter, man...

Matthew (Intern): I'm building a bunker and filling it with Hawaiian Punch and Eggo Waffles and lots of tape cassettes with batteries and Pokemon cards.

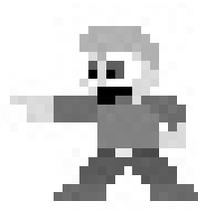

Corinne (CIT): I'm microwaving my hard drives.

Tallulah: I'm making, uh, I don't know, doing stuff that I never do, like, uh, I don't know.

I Am Born

By Corinne Rabbin-Birnbaum, 0.1

Just in: A child, reported to have been born two weeks ago, is slated to become a superstar. No word on how everyone seems to understand that this child is so special, but the knowledge that she will one day shock the world with her excellence continues to be widely accepted. Named Corinne Rabbin-Birnbaum, she will no doubt be our benign overlord sometime in the future. Update: This child is actually 1 year old. Her math is fuzzy, because she is a baby.

Robot Factory: Awesome New Class

By Matthew Margini, 10.2

Have you heard of this new class called Robot Factory? It's taught by a man named Rob Keith. I can't believe how much I love it. You can build R2D2 out of the all new LEGO Droid Developer Kit. The pieces are so shiny and never used. They smell like the promise of many future robots to come. I wonder what they'll smell like in 20 years.

Spongebob Whatpants?

By Sophie Saxl, -9.5

Ok, you people are probably wondering about this crazy show Spongebob. Well, I don't exactly know what to make of it but I do know one thing: this show is just STRANGE. I mean a sponge who lives under the sea! WHAT? Listen to this: a sponge who lives in a pineapple under the sea. That just sounds wrong. Not only is Spongebob weird, but what about his friends, such as Patrick, the glob of weird pink slime-looking stuff. and what about sandy, the space squirrel? People what is this show? And Squidward the squid, who talks like he's holding his nose. Only the future will tell what will become of this bizarre cube.

What Do You Think of Spongebob Squarepants?

Survey by Erin Bejasa, -6.6

"I think it is possibly the most important and momentous cultural artifact of the 20th century. I'M READY I'M READY I'M READY!" - Christina Iglesias, 9.9

"I would die for Spongebob. I love him. Also, no one makes a better Krabby Patty." - Corinne Rabbin-Birnbaum, 0.1

"I've never seen something that captures my soul like this" - Matthew Margini, 10.2

"At some parts it's kind of pointless, but it's also funny." - Sophie Saxl, -9.5

"It's cool, I guess." - Louisa Suk, -5.8

"I think it's weird." - Tallulah Reiser, -6.3
